
Low or negative radial correlation makes 2D distance from the center an unreliable indicator of learned radius.